MY PROFILE

▶ Google Scholar Profiles is designed to help authors showcase their academic publications. It allows authors to check who is citing their articles, graph citations over time, and compute several citations metrics.

▶ Published authors can also make their profiles public, so that they appear in Google Scholars results when people search their name.

▶ As a student who is not interested in publishing, you do not have to create this profile to use Google Scholar. You are, however, welcome to fill in the personal information if you'd like.

MY LIBRARY

My Library is your personal warehouse where you can save, organize, and catalog your sources.

- - - - - - - - - - - -

My Library offers the ability to search for specific articles using the search bar. You have the option to sort your saved articles by date (date ranges) as well.

- - - - - - - - - - - -

The labels feature allows you to create specific tabs that are similar to folders where you can organize articles based on topic, read status, and more.

LABELS – Student Tips

Create separate labels for each project or paper you write

- - - - - - - - - - - -

▶ When you create the name of a label be sure to include the name of the course the assignment came from.

▶ This acts as a memory refresher when you need to reference those articles in the future.

▶ It's also a great organization habit overall - Bonus!

Create a new	Course information
Label name	Project name		Actions
Marketing (Final) - Lulu Lemon Marketing Plan		✏	✕
Marketing (Unit 2) - Apple's Premium Pricing		✏	✕
Marketing (Unit 4) - 4 P's Marketing Mix		✏	✕
marketing (unit 6) - cyber marketing strategies		✏	✕
Sales Management (Final Project) - Leadership		✏	✕
Sales Management (Group Project) - Sales Chain A		✏	✕

Note how the labels group together based on the first keyword - This is an effective organization strategy to group similar material together

Hey Chelsea, I attended all the way to the very end! Plan, Prepare, Write & Perfect! Got it! I think I hit unsubscribe from emails by mistake. How can I rectify this? Also, how do I get the APA 7 checklist? I enjoyed it all especially knowing that my Professors are looking for those keywords!! Valuable info!!

Maria Knutzen 🖐
Thank you for doing the webinar! I was one of those people who didn't do subtitles on my paper. I will do it now! Valuable hour spent!

Hello Chelsea, I really appreciate your free course. It was REALLY, REALLY good. Really proud of you and all your hard work.

The training on Saturday was fantastic. I am really indebted to you for walking me through the APA style when I was new to it. You are my go-to person on Youtube when I have any doubts about the APA style. You are very knowledgeable and have the gift of simplifying complex things into things that can be easily understood. I'm sure that this course is a good value for money. All the best and Thank You for your guidance :)
